

A SETTING UNLIKE ANY OTHER

The Shores is located just minutes outside Historic Downtown Breckenridge, with easy access to all that makes the Rocky Mountains so spectacular. Everything is either a short walk, bike or car ride away.

Mountains, water. The best of both worlds.

Across the river rests over 34,000 acres of federally protected land and the White River National Forest. There's hundreds of miles of hiking and biking terrain to access out your doorstep.

IN THE HEART OF IT ALL

Blue River Restoration Project

Beginning in the early 1990s, the Blue River Restoration Project has transformed our banks back to their natural state after decades of dredge mining.

The process has dramatically improved the water quality and surrounding vegetation, which in turn has seen both wild and aquatic life return to their highest levels on record. And it's right out your backyard.
